WORD FROM THE PASTOR

Too dark, Light is available

*The true light that gives light to everyone was coming into the world. He was in the world, and though the world was made through him, the world did not recognize him.
(John 1:9-10)*

One of the questions that is often asked by people who don't acknowledge the Lordship of Jesus Christ is this, 'If there is a Holy God who is Sovereign and Almighty, why is there so much evil which is only getting worse'. While the question seems valid, let us look beyond the superficial. Here are three important truths about light and how 'we' choose daily to let the 'light shine' or 'be lost in darkness'.

1. Light preceded darkness

The biblical standpoint begins with the very first verse in the Bible which says, 'In the beginning, God created heaven and earth'. This is Genesis 1:1. Verse 2 says, 'Now the earth was formless and empty, darkness was over the surface of the deep, and the Spirit of God was hovering over the waters.' Now onto the darkness of sin, we all know that sin came as a rebellion against the holiness of God. The perfect creation marred by disobedience. However, no amount of sin can negate the existence of light, and no amount of darkness can quench the power of the light of Jesus Christ.

2. Light prevails over darkness

Now moving forward to the deeds of sin over history in the Bible all the way to Jesus and His death on the cross. Isaiah 53 is a beautiful description of how Jesus, who is the Light of the world came into the world of sin and darkness and conquered even death through His own death on the cross of Calvary. Yes, it is true that the grievous nature of sin is only getting worse by the day and what we see in the world today, 'seems' like there is no hope. The very words of Jesus as it is recorded in Revelation 3:20, 'Here I am! I stand at the door and knock. If anyone hears my voice and opens the door, I will come in and eat with that person, and they with me. Remember, 'Light is available'.

3. Light punishes darkness

Philippians 2:10 says, 'that at the name of Jesus every knee should bow, in heaven and on earth and under the earth'. Hopelessness is a common word spoken about the events of the world. But in the message of the bible, there is hope for the righteous which goes beyond this world. In Revelation 22:11, we read, 'Let the one who does wrong continue to do wrong; let the vile person continue to be vile; let the one who does right continue to do right; and let the holy person continue to be holy.' On the cross, it 'seemed' like light had lost to darkness. But thanks be to the faithfulness of our God, 'on Easter morning, LIGHT WON'.

Walk with Jesus, do not get distracted, disappointed or deflated, in Christ Jesus, we are always more than conquerors.

Wishing you and yours a Happy Easter and a blessed month of April.

Rev. Isaac Johnson

“Veni, Vidi, Vici”
‘I came; I saw; I conquered.’

This phrase quoted has been attributed to the Roman conqueror Julius Caesar after his stupendous victories far and wide. History records the grand annals of mighty rulers who founded their kingdoms on force, ambition and pride. Where are they now? Their kingdoms have vanished as froth on the waves, consigned to the dusty pages of history.

Jesus came, He saw, He conquered and reigns supreme, alive and glorious in a believer’s heart. Two thousand years have gone by and yet His words, His acts, His purpose, His truth are all marching on. He is the central motivating force in mankind’s meaningful living.

No life on earth has drawn so much thought and discussion as this “Solitary Life”. Demons have fled, and hard hearts have broken to serve and sacrifice for Him. The impact of Jesus on Man can never be fathomed.

Since the Fall of Man, our Almighty God has been unfolding a grand, unerring plan to redeem and save his most treasured and beloved creation from eternal doom. His everlasting gift of his dearly beloved Son was the sole purpose of our Lord entering the sin-stained world. Our Lord joined the ranks of humanity and walked in humble fellowship with wretched sinners like us.

The first recorded words of Jesus were spoken when he was a boy of 12 in the temple. He said to his parents, “How is it that ye sought Me? Wist ye not that I must be about my Father’s business?” Till the end he was perfectly faithful to his Heavenly Father.

Our Master had an extraordinary impact on the simple and honest crowd. They were always about Him, listening, liking, and applauding. He was immensely popular. We hear “All men are seeking Thee,” “the multitude thronged around Him” “All the city was gathered at the door”. They ran to Him from every city “His mother and brethren could not come to Him”. He had to feed five thousand people who followed Him. The woman with the issue of blood came behind Him through the milling crowds to touch the hem of His garment. He drew them like a magnet and they loved Him. Children nestled in His arms.

The Pharisees were perturbed and perplexed as to how they could stall this swelling support. "If we let him alone all men will believe on him" they said. But the time would come as He knew it would, when He would be misunderstood and ruthlessly opposed. The scribes openly accused Jesus of blasphemy and they accused Him of being in league with Beelzebub (Mark 3: 22-27). Jesus refuted their absurd charge "How can Satan cast out Satan?"

The tide turned against our Lord. At Nazareth, his people did not understand him - his disciples frequently misunderstood him. The fickle crowds that pressed upon him for their own physical needs left him. His family pointed their terrible finger on him almost apologizing for his 'madness'.

No one could have experienced or understood the depths of His pain and loneliness. Who could ever understand His sublime goodness, wisdom, righteousness? Calmly He spoke in the plainest words of the certainty of the Cross. His disciples could not understand this direful prediction. They associated Messiahship with power – not sacrifice.

"Take, eat; this is My body". The Lord's supper is the mysterious, deeply valued and loved Sacrament of Christ's Church. He was calling us to look at the Cross. He was calling us repentant sinners into His fellowship. Jesus faced the Cross, accepted it and made it the touchstone of all Christian faith. It gave divine power to all that He had said and did. "I came that they may have life and may have it abundantly".

"The Resurrection is the Great Divide of human history". Because He is risen and lives, He has unique authority. It is with this authority that He appoints us to be His fellow workers: out of this comes the Great Commission. The Gospel according to Matthew ends with a triumphant shout: "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the end of the world."

With joy and victory, we proclaim, "We are more than conquerors through Him that loved us." Romans 8:37

"He came; He saw; He conquered".

BREAKFAST WITH JESUS

Jesus had risen! The disciples are overjoyed, but also bewildered. Peter, James, John and a few other disciples return to the comfort of a known profession –fishing. They spend the whole dreary night catching nothing. Early in the morning, Jesus stands on the shore and asks them to cast their net on the right side of the boat and the disciples are unable to haul the net because it is so heavy with the catch! Then it dawns on them! It was the risen Saviour! Peter plunges into the water first and reaches the shore first, followed by the others. Jesus has breakfast ready for them – grilled fish and fresh bread. He himself gives the bread to them, then the fish. As dawn awakens a slumbering world, the Saviour calls His children to have breakfast with Him, when He would break the Word for us; He would fill us and satisfy us with a strengthening, comforting meal. As dawn breaks, in the silence and quiet, the Shepherd reveals things to us, peeling off layer after layer, teaching us the hidden meanings, giving us hope and direction. Isaiah 50:4 says, "He awakens me morning by morning, wakens my ear to listen like one being taught". Nothing can be more rewarding than an early morning 'quiet time' with Jesus . He is the Bread of Life and whoever feeds on Him will never go hungry.

It is again in the early hours of the "Resurrection morning" that an anguished Mary Magdalene runs to the tomb and sees it empty. As she stands crying outside, she sees Jesus, mistaking Him for the gardener, till He calls her name and she joyfully responds to Him, crying out 'Rabboni'. The wonder and glory of that Easter morn are often replicated as Jesus manifests Himself to us in many ways. As we seek Him, He reveals Himself to us, making us call out to Him 'Teacher' in awe and reverence! Memories of a blessed Easter morning service organised by the Christian Medical College, on the slopes of a small hillock near Bagayam are still vivid. We climbed up the hill while it was yet dark, on a small pathway lit by flaming torches and seated ourselves on boulders and flat stones as the Pastor conducted a solemn service and later served us the communion bread and wine. As the service drew to a close, we could see the shimmering rays of the early morning sun bathing the sleepy town below in myriad hues. As we climbed down we felt replete, full of humble gratitude and adoration for the Risen Redeemer.

Early morning time is the best time to catch the gentle whispers of the Saviour, when He directs and instructs, consoles and comforts, strengthens and empowers. The cacophony of worldly noises can easily drown His whispers and divert our attention. Before we get caught in the frenetic, hectic activity of day to day life we are to still ourselves and listen to Him. It is then that His voice can be heard clear and distinct. "My sheep listen to my voice; I know them and they follow me. I give them eternal life, and they shall never perish; no one can snatch them out of my hand". John 10: 27,28

We see our Creator God at the zenith of His creative skills in the glorious sunrises, which are a gift from Him drawing us closer to him in awestruck wonder! Recently, we were fortunate enough to see the rising sun in all its splendour at Kanyakumari. As the four of us, the Pachecos, David and Jenny, my husband and I stood in hushed amazement, the golden orb slowly emerged over the edge of the ocean and the shining rays splashed an array of pinks and oranges, illumining the darkened sky! 'How Great Thou Art' sang our hearts in unison. Another beautiful sunrise evoking much wonder and awe, was on our trip to The United States. As the plane landed at Frankfurt en route to New York, we saw a spectacular sky, resplendent with different hues merging into a tapestry of colour. I am sure all of us have experienced the joy of an early morning walk with the birds twittering and the cool breeze softly brushing our cheeks. Our Lord and Saviour stands each morning calling out to us, inviting us to 'come unto Him' and rest on Him- to have a breakfast of fresh bread and grilled fish with Him. Can you hear Him call? What will your response be?

Gujarat Mission Trip

INTRODUCTION (Rev. PAUL ANBARASU)

This is a brief presentation of what 19 of us from our church experienced for 3 days in one of the Mission fields that our church has been praying and supporting through Global Partners Movement (GPM) for several years. We thank God Almighty who enabled us to see for ourselves, His manifestations in southern Gujarat and parts of Daman and Northwest Maharashtra. Those who came with us have shared in this article about specific areas of our Mission Trip experience. I'm sure you will be inspired and maybe encouraged to join us in such future endeavours. Here we go...

1. CHURCH PLANTING (Raju Narayanan & Victor Venkatrangham)

One of the highlights of the trip was our participation in the Church Dedication at Patali in Maharashtra. The Journey was worth it to see the believers of the Patali Church and the pastors who were gathered to welcome us in their own traditional manner of singing, dancing and garlanding all of us. The newly constructed church was dedicated by our Pastor, Rev. Isaac Johnson. During the prayer time, we witnessed the men of the church opening their mouths and in unison, praying loudly and fervently. At Umarkui in Gujarat, we witnessed the foundation laying for a 'pucca' church. There are already over 100 believers in the present temporary mud building. Pastor Amrutlal Morya is pastoring in this village for the past 7 years.

2. CHILDREN'S HOMES (Prasad Oommen & Sujatha Prasad)

As part of our trip, we visited the Peith Boys Home, Kaprada Girls Home and Khergam Boys Home. The group thus covered mission fields in Gujarat, Maharashtra and the Union territory of Haveli. At all the homes, Mrs Sabrina Siga spoke about the transforming power of the Gospel through the presence and power of the Lord Jesus and children made beautiful butterflies. The children in the Homes were very disciplined and were doing well in their studies.

During our interaction with the leaders, it was very encouraging to know that some of the children from the Homes had become local leaders in their panchayats and were influencing the governance of their areas and were good Christian witnesses. Peith Boys Home functioned from a rented place without electricity and toilet facility; Kaprada Girls Home from its own building and Khergam Boys Home from a leased premise- leased from the CNI church. The children in all the homes actively and enthusiastically took part making beautiful butterflies and other activities. They expressed their gratitude by wishing each one of us 'Salaam'. We praise God for His faithfulness and for the leaders of the homes.

3. MEDICAL CAMPS (Drs. ANITA CHELLIAH AND PUVIN RODRICKS)

We as the medical team consisting of a medical doctor and a dentist were able to conduct screenings, prescribing them the available medicines that we had. We were able to serve many of them who came to us with various illness ranging from the common cold to joint problems, cough, skin diseases, many were having nutritional deficiency, poor oral hygiene and so on. It brought us immense joy to see them having hope in Christ. We give all the glory and honour to Christ, for we can only treat but ultimately God gives the healing.

4. BAPTISMS (PHILOMENA KANAGARAJ AND YESIA KUTTY)

In a remote place, halfway up a mountain, there is a river flowing down and with only 4 feet water in the river-bed, Pastor Rekha Ben and her Assistant, led our team to witness baptism of 11 new believers. One by one, those who had committed to get Baptized walked silently into the river water. The local Pastor baptized all of them. There was no singing because we did not want to draw any unnecessary attention. We met all the eleven later and there was a grand service and Bro George Koshy, the Senior missionary in that area spoke to the believers.

5. HOSPITALITY (PREETHI CHELLIAH AND VIJI SANTHOSHAM)

The mission trip to Gujarat was simply amazing and we enjoyed excellent hospitality from our fellow believers in the tribal areas. On the first day, at the dedication of a church, we were welcomed by gorgeously dressed men and women dancing to the tune of a drum beat. We also began to tap our feet and ultimately joined them dancing. Wherever we went, they made us feel so special by garlanding us and giving beautiful roses to us. They were gracious hosts treating us royally. It is not merely in what they did or gave but to see that they did it with genuine love. Within their limited means, they ensured that we were provided. We never saw one without a smile on their faces and across all ages, the joy of Jesus was very evident.

6. WORSHIP (JOSHUA CHELLIAH & ROSELIN JOHNSON)

Praise and worship are central in our faith in Jesus Christ. We witnessed the way the believers, as simple as they seemed, expressed themselves in worship with one accord without any inhibitions, singing joyfully, loudly and untiringly. This reminded us as to how the bible talks about how all people worshipped in one accord in the early church. The passion with which they offered their praises to God left us speechless. They genuinely gave their best to God even in the midst of their simple living conditions. This is something that all of us can learn and grow in. Their simplicity yet sincere love for Jesus inspired us to join them in worshipping God in unsophisticated manner by dancing and clapping our hands. All of these gave us pure great joy.

7. TRAVEL & FOOD (JEBASINGH JOTHI & CHRISTIANNA)

When we signed up to go on this Mission trip, we knew that we would see tough terrains and interior villages. But what took us by surprise was the fact that in all places that travelling in a van was difficult, missionaries have been toiling for Jesus for several decades, building the body of Christ. We travelled through South east Gujarat, North west Maharashtra and Daman & Diu. Our days stretched from 9 am to 10 pm with at least 1/3rd of them spent in going from one mission centre to another. We were able to get a glimpse of the kind of places where the people live and what they eat. We have nothing to complain where we are and we appreciated how the believers were content in their places and living conditions.

8. CHILDREN'S ACTIVITIES (SABRINA SIGA & JULIA SANTHOSHAM)

During the mission trip there was a planned visit to 3 children's homes totalling 100 children. A story was told about Joseph. how through all his trials, betrayals etc., he steadfastly kept his trust and eyes on the God of Israel alone. God took him through many situations and tests to help Joseph mature in every way. We also taught the children as to how a caterpillar metamorphoses into a beautiful butterfly when nature has its way, so too when we allow God to guide us and trust him he will bless us. An art activity of a butterfly was done in all 3 centres using a butterfly and an ice cream stick as its body and poster colours. Dropping 2 or 3 colours in splashes, we made a 3rd colour by pressing the 2 wings together and opening them out again. The children enjoyed these activities and so did all of us seeing the joy on their faces.

CONCLUSION (REV. ISAAC JOHNSON)

I always marvel how God who gives a thought guides us wonderfully to see the reality of the vision. I remember talking to Joshua and Anita Chelliah about wanting to have a mission trip to Gujarat where we are already supporting a missionary, Sis. Rekha Ben. They in turn connected with Bro. Johnson from Global Partners Movement (GPM) and this blossomed into the Mission Trip that 18 individuals participated and we come with renewed vision of God's work, God's people and God's mandate for us. I thank all those who came and I pray that such travels will happen annually for many more to – COME, SEE, INVOLVE and BE INSPIRED. All Glory to God who gave us this blessed opportunity.

Rejoice! It's Easter

(Read Phil 4:4-7, Luke 15:10, Isa 61:10)

Rejoice in the Lord, rejoice always,
Rejoice! I repeat, evermore;
Jesus who died for our sins arose,
No tears need we shed anymore.

It was to save us, lost in our sins,
Our Saviour bled, suffered and died;
Rejoice! He now lives, no more to die,
And always is close by our side.

Rejoice in the Lord, rejoice I say!
It was to bring joy Jesus came;
When burdened with sin His mercy claim,
He hears all who call on His name.

'There's great joy in heaven', our Lord said,
'Should one sinner trust and repent.'
Turn now from sin and rejoice always,
With Jesus go where you are sent.

Effects of food adulteration on human health... Part - 2

"Doctors treat but Jesus heals"

What is adulteration?

- Adulteration is the process of adding unwanted substances to the food, with similar appearance/colour for making profits.
- Adulteration is very common today and the most commonly adulterated food product is milk.
- Adulteration lowers the quality of food and sometimes, toxic chemicals are also added which can be hazardous to health.
- The products are marketed in a tricky manner, which is usually cheating the customers.

Here is a list of most common adulterants in India:

1. Milk

A 2012 study conducted by the FSSAI (Food Safety and Standards Authority of India) across 33 states found that milk in India was adulterated with diluted water, detergent, fat and even urea.

Some of the adulterants that are used in milk are water, chalk, urea, caustic soda and skimmed milk, while Khoya is adulterated with paper, refined oil and skimmed milk powder.

The level of adulteration in milk is dangerous to so many levels and has the highest chance of causing stomach disorders.

2. Tea/Coffee

Tea and coffee are two most used beverages in India, and thus highly adulterated. Tea leaves are usually adulterated with same coloured leaves, some might not even be edible. Several cases of liver infection across the country have been reported due to consuming adulterated tea.

Coffee seeds, on the other hand are adulterated with tamarind seeds, mustard seeds and also chicori. These adulterants are the main cause of diarrhoea.

3. Wheat and other food grains

Everybody knows that wheat is very commonly adulterated with ergot, a fungus containing poisonous substances and is extremely injurious to health.

4. Vegetables

Beware of the shiny vegetables! Yes, adulteration of vegetables is in news for quite some time now. Different coloured and textured vegetables are often coloured with different dyes and substances. These vegetables are mostly adulterated with malachite green, a chemical dye which is known to cause Cancer (Carcinogenic).

Common adulterants in fruits and vegetables are oxytocin, sachharin, wax, calcium carbide and copper sulphate.

5. Sweets

Many Indian sweets are covered with a silver foil during festivals. According to Indian regulations, silver must be 99.9 per cent pure if it is used as a food ingredient.

6. Ice cream

Ice cream is manufactured in extremely cold chamber where fat is hardened and several harmful substances are added. Also a kind of gum is added which is sticky and slow melting. This gum is obtained by boiling animal parts like tail, the nose, the udder etc.

Purpose of Life Part 19

Logical Reasoning - part 2

We reasoned out in our earlier write ups that if God had gone ahead with the creation in spite of knowing that He would have to sacrifice His own son as a sacrificial Lamb (1Peter 1:18-20) to redeem the mankind that would fall, which He would have definitely known through His foreknowledge (Isaiah 46: 10), then He would surely have had a definite plan in creation.

How did God create what He created?

In the first chapter of the book of Genesis we find that God created everything from nothing by His mere word: "Let there be".

"And God said, Let there be light, and there was light". Genesis 1:3

In fact all the other creations have been created only by that means. However, man was not created from nothing but was formed out of the dust of the ground, not by mere word but by breathing into his nostrils God's breath to make him a living being. From these actions of God we can conclude that man was not to be like any of God's other creations but special.

"the LORD God formed the man from the dust of the ground and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life, and the man became a living being". Genesis 2:7

Assignment for Mankind.

God blessed them and said to them, "Be fruitful and increase in number; fill the earth and subdue it. Rule over the fish of the sea and the birds of the air and over every living creature that moves on the ground." Genesis 1 :26-28

From the above scripture passage we find that God created man to increase in numbers and rule over His other creations.

Creation – Man's Place and Time on Earth

We have been suggesting in our earlier write ups that we must ask questions (Jer 33:3) and seek for answers as only man has been given the intelligence to think and ask and not God's other creations.

How can God expect mankind to increase in numbers and get accommodated on Earth especially when it is small in size? Further, we usually keep our children with us in our homes. Heaven is God's home. Then why should God not keep us there in heaven but prepare "Earth", a separate place and keep mankind away from heaven - God's abode?

Let us ponder as how God manages the limited space on Earth to accomplish the plan?

From one man he made every nation of men, that they should inhabit the whole earth; and he determined the times set for them and the exact places where they should live. Acts 17:26

The above scripture passage reveals that God had determined the period of our life (the life span of men) and the exact place of stay on this earth for each of us. God is bringing us in batches so that limited space available on earth would still be sufficient to handle the whole of mankind.

Illustration.

For an example consider this illustration. Compared to a wedding hall the dining hall could be small and yet it would serve the purpose as guests can be served in batches. Similarly Earth, even though small compared to heaven, would be sufficient to accommodate the entire mankind if they are sent batch after batch. As how the wedding guests vacate their place after getting served for the next batch, in mankind too one generation leaves its place through physical death for the next generations to get accommodated on earth.

If Physical death is inevitable, then why should God send us here to earth?

We know that whoever is born on earth would surely die because of the "original sin" brought about by Adam through his act of disobedience. Then why should God keep sending us here on to earth knowing very well that each one of us who comes would surely die? We will not send anyone to a place if we know for sure that they would die, then why should God keep sending mankind to earth when He knows we would die?

Thus we can infer for sure that God never intended mankind should stay here on earth for eternity but for a brief period of time at the specified places preordained by Him.

Unless and otherwise God had a plan He would not have made it this way. God would obviously be wanting to achieve something very profound through us during this brief period of time when each man would be living on earth. We must ponder on this and seek for divine revelations as it would be the "purpose of life".

To continue.
